ALLIES SEVER RAIL LINE BETWEEN TUNIS AND BIZERTE

U. S. and British Taking Stand For Climactic Assault

By the Associated Press
London, Nov. 30—British and American forces, supported by a rising tide of aerial blows at the enemy on both sides of the Mediterranean, have stormed forward to within less than 12 miles of Tunis in a drive which has all but isolated that city and Bizerte, main Axis-held strong point in Tunisia.

The Allied advance was disclosed today by a headquarters communiqué, which said fighting now was progressing east of Djedida, which is 12 miles northwest of Tunis on the Tunis-Bizerte railroad. This indicated the Allies were driving a wedge straight toward the coast to separate the Axis strongholds.

Bizerte was the target of an attack by Allied planes which scored hits on the naval base, the communiqué said, and Allied fighters were credited with destruction of four enemy planes in operations over forward areas.

A storm of Allied aerial bombs burst upon the Axis in North Africa and Italy last night and yesterday, underscoring Prime Minister Churchill's declaration that the enemy soon would be cast from his African footholds and that the Italians must get out of the war or be bombed out.

Tunis, Bizerte and Tripoli were targets of new punishing attacks over the weekend in a prelude to impending assaults by American and British land forces in Africa, and the great Italian industrial city of Tunis shuddered to the impact of RAF bombs last night for the second time in 24 hours.

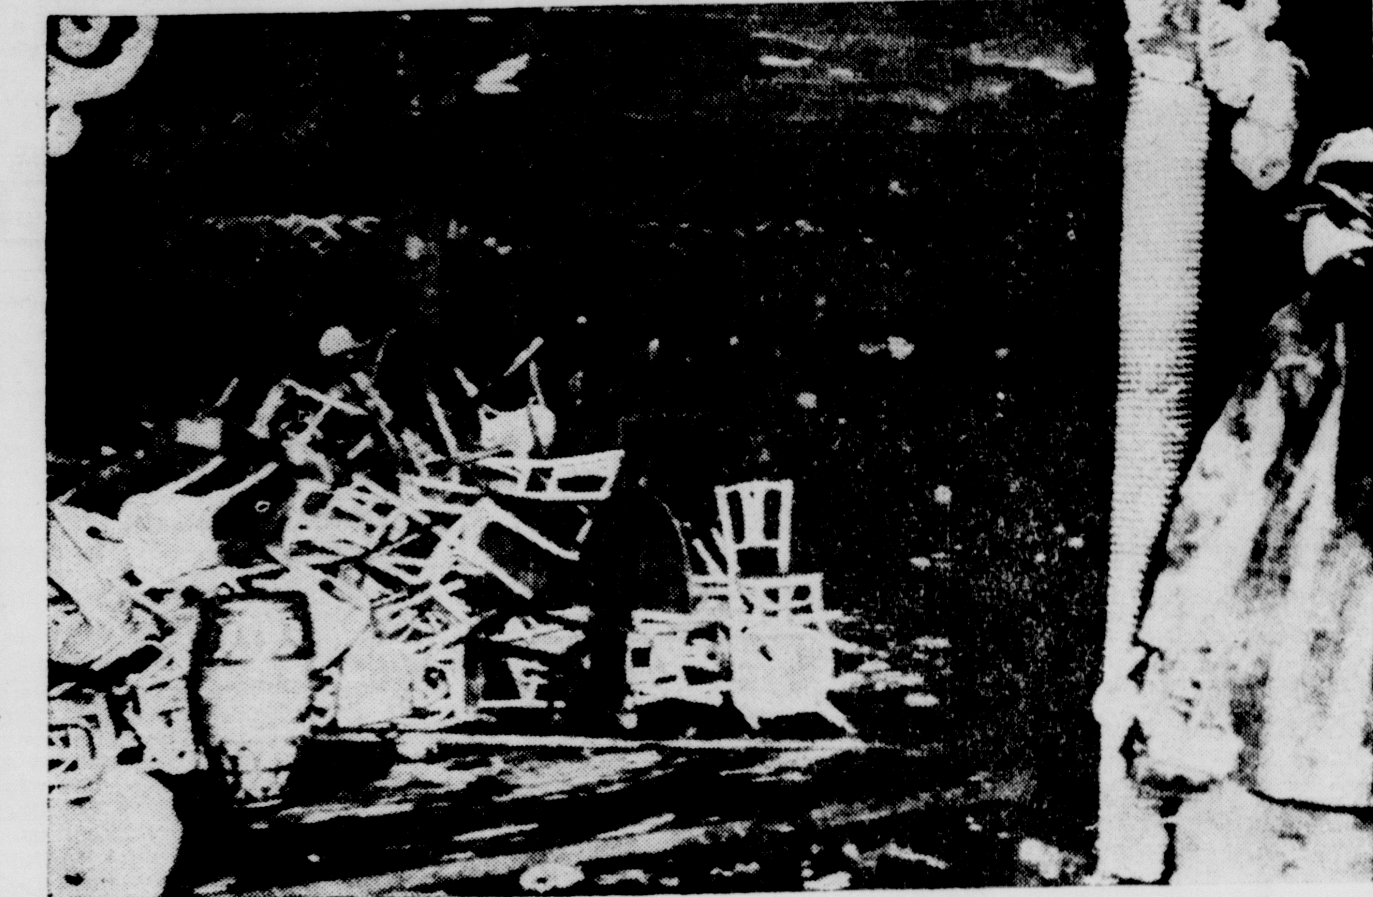

Shipping and harbors were blasted at three Axis-held African ports and traffic along Marshal Rommel's road of escape towards Tripoli was strangled, while in Tunisia the fighting grew in intensity as the zero hour for all-out land attack neared.

Across the Mediterranean, home-based British bombers swept across the Alps to attack Turin, Italy's arsenal city, and there the pilots found fires still raging from a great assault the night before.

Rome acknowledged that Turin was the target in this 23rd RAF raid of the war on the Italian mainland and the 10th of the new aerial offensive against Mussolini's domain since Oct. 22. The Italians minimized the damage, however, and the British themselves said this attack was not on anything

A short time before, a scene of gayety—now the aftermath of stark tragedy. Little Change In Situation In Far Pacific

Allied troops today were reported to have captured a beach 900 yards east of the beleaguered Japanese stronghold at Gona, New Guinea, and apparently cut the enemy's 10-mile coastal defense strip after U. S. flying fortresses smashed a new Japanese sea-borne attempt to land reinforcements.

Front-line dispatches said Australian jungle fighters, supported by planes and artillery, had overrun the enemy's beach defenses near Gona and were pushing on toward Sanananda farther up the coast.

Several hundred Japanese were believed cut off in a pocket at Gona.

American fortress aircraft were officially credited with setting fire to two Japanese destroyers and forcing two others to sea in breaking up the enemy's latest attempt to land reinforcements.

Gen. MacArthur also reported that Allied naval forces had intercepted an 8,000-ton German auxiliary west of Australia, blasted the vessel with gunfire and captured 78 of the crew after the Nazis scuttled their ship.

It was the first official mention of German shipping in the western Pacific for many months.

Meanwhile, the navy in Washington disclosed that despite violent attacks by American bombers the Japanese were attempting to regain a foothold on the bleak little island of Attu, in the westernmost Aleutians.

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—(P)—Air-raid shelters, scorned by many Pennsylvanians in previous test alerts, will be better appreciated the next time the sirens shriek.

Thousands of city residents, caught on the streets Saturday night in a surprise state-wide blackout from 9:50 to 10:20, discovered the shelters are just what the name implies when the weather is unpleasant, although they are primarily for the protection of civilians from enemy attack.

For the first time since air raid drills began, the city's many public shelters were comfortably filled, some to the point of actual crowding.

At least five deaths were reported during the test. Four were in Philadelphia, including two wardens who succumbed to heart attacks while on duty.

The new state control center at Harrisburg was in use for the first time, but it did not prevent a mix-up that left Birdsboro, Berks county, in the dark for an hour and 15 minutes. Officials said an error in transmission of the all-clear signal from Reading was responsible.

HIGHWAY FATALITY
Williamsport, Nov. 30.—(P)—Kelley Gensib, 47, of Lock Haven, was killed and his wife seriously injured yesterday when the small truck in which they were moving their furniture to Philadelphia slid into a ravine and overturned on route 14 near here.

The couple's two children are in Philadelphia where the family intended to live.

Carry-Your-Own Plan Starts In Washington

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—If you make a purchase weighing less than five pounds in Washington department stores, you'll have to carry it home.

Advertising the restriction today, the stores said it was necessitated by a man-power shortage.

An exception is made for unwieldy articles measuring more than 50 inches in length and girth combined.

Rationing Is Problem In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30.—(P)—Western Pennsylvania motorists filled their gas tanks today as the midnight deadline for gasoline rationing approached with unsolved transportation problems for workers in this busy war production area.

Overworked ration boards labored over the weekend to issue supplementary books to war workers, but few reported success. Failure of as many as 35 per cent of the motorists in some sections to register was reported.

Congressmen Plan To Fight Cabinet Shift

President May Find Large Proposal Subject To Bitter Criticism

THREE POSTS INVOLVED

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—President Roosevelt may find a large part of his cabinet subjected to some lively congressional criticism if he goes through with a plan for a three-way shift making Harold I. Ickes secretary of labor with control over manpower.

Ickes already has been offered the post and if he accepts, the president would be expected to seek senate confirmation for this nomination as well as those of Paul V. McNutt to be secretary of the interior and Frances Perkins to be federal security administrator.

CHURCHILL'S BROADCAST IS DRIVEN HOME

Prime Minister Promises War Will Be Carried To Italy On Huge Scale

STRATEGY IS REVIEWED

London, Nov. 30.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill's warning to the Italian people to get out of the war or expect a "prolonged, scientific and shattering air attack" was pounded home again and again to the Italians today by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

The BBC preceded Churchill's victory speech Sunday with broadcast appeals to the Italians to make a separate peace and followed up by rebroadcasting at intervals the full text of the prime minister's 30-minute speech, addressing Germany and France as well as Italy.

Churchill promised that the war would be carried to Italy "in a manner not hitherto dreamed of by its guilty leaders" and added:

"It is for the Italian people to say whether they want this terrible thing to happen to them or not."

He reviewed Allied strategy on the African and Russian fronts, discussed what he called a "reunion" with France and its "resurrection" and spoke somberly of the portents of 1943 as boding new tests "in the face of victory."

"I promise nothing, I predict nothing," Churchill said. "I cannot even guarantee that more successes are now on the way."

"American, British and French troops are pressing forward side by side. We expect to expel the enemy before long from the 2,000 miles of African coastline. But Africa is no halting place. It is not a seat but a springboard. We shall use Africa to come to closer grips."

But England's war leader also warned his audience: "I know of nothing that has happened yet which justifies the hope that the war will not be long or that bitter, bloody years do not lie ahead. It may be that the war in Europe will come to an end before the war in Asia."

GOP Leaders Chart Plans For Session

Harrisburg, Nov. 30.—(P)—Pledged to a reduction of taxes, Republican leaders this week began charting a legislative program for submission to the 1943 general assembly opening January 5.

State Chairman W. Harvey Taylor invited GOP senators to a caucus here Saturday and said party members of the house of representatives would hold a similar session here later.

Both gatherings are expected to name steering committees to expedite consideration of legislation advanced by the assembly meet at which Republicans will control both houses.

While expressing hopes for a short session in view of the war, Governor-Elect Edward Martin has not disclosed the program he will advance at his January 19 inauguration. He did say there was no necessity at present for any legislation dealing with the war effort.

Governor James last May suggested a tax cut of $50,000,000 to $80,000,000 might be possible but Martin said the amount of reduction had not been determined. A move to slash the four-mill personal property tax is believed likely.

In addition to providing appropriations for operations of the state government during the next two years, the legislature will, among other things, have before it proposals to provide compensation for partial unemployment, increase salaries of school teachers and to reapportion election districts.

Wilkesburg, Nov. 30.—(P)—Anna G. Behn, 37, today became the first woman to hold a borough office in Wilkesburg's 57-year history. She succeeded as Controller T. W. Large Supply Of Burn Ointment Rushed East

Cincinnati, Nov. 30.—(P)—The Institutum Divi Thomae, Roman Catholic archdiocesan research center, today rushed its entire supply of a recently-developed burn ointment to Boston to aid victims of the Coconut Grove night club fire.

The ointment, credited with highly successful healing of severe burns and virtual elimination of resultant scar, was developed by Dr. George Sperti, research director.

The laboratory sent 100 pounds of it by air and issued an appeal for approximately 200 pounds known to be in private hands.

Accidental Discharge Of Gun Is Fatal

Son of Beech Street Couple Victim Of Tragedy in Home Friday Night

SERVICES WEDNESDAY

Services will be held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Musante, 15 Mohawk street, for her brother, Russell Hansen, 14, who died early Saturday morning in Warren General Hospital of an injury received Friday evening at the family home 672 Beech street, when a gun accidentally discharged in the hands of a younger brother, William, aged 12.

Removal has been made to the Musante home and friends may call there at any time. Interment following the rites will be in Oakland cemetery.

Young Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hansen, had been out squirrel hunting on Friday with the younger lad, using a .32-20 rifle. Officers of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, who were called to the scene of the accident, were told by the father that he had instructed the boys to clean their guns. William picked up the rifle his brother had been using, believing it to be unloaded, and started to clean it. He apparently touched the trigger in pulling back the hammer or safety and the gun was discharged into the body of his brother, seated across the room on a chair.

The injured lad was taken to the hospital immediately but little hope was held for his recovery and his death occurred there at 8:20 o'clock Saturday morning. Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, who was notified and conducted an investigation of the happening, will issue a certificate of death by accidental shooting.

Russell LeRoy Hansen was born here on October 3, 1928 and attended local schools. He was a member of the James Nordin Sunday school class of the First Lutheran church.

Besides those mentioned, he is survived by one brother, Charles, Jr., with the U. S. Coast Guard; and three sisters, Mrs. Genevieve Sciasse, Miss Dorothy and Miss Betty, all at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Acre, Warren Rd 2, and Mrs. Julia Hansen, Youngstown, O.

REPORT SINKING OF SMALL U. S. VESSEL

By the Associated Press
The navy announced today that a small United States merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the south Atlantic early in October. Survivors have landed at an east coast United States port.

The sinking raised to 543 the Associated Press tabulation of reported United and neutral nations merchant ship losses in western Atlantic enemy attacks since Dec. 7, 1941.

A guard was placed around the area immediately and no civilians were permitted near the craft.

Capt. Shick said the names and ranks of those killed in the crash would not be released until their next of kin had been notified.

Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 30.—(P)—Ten men were killed today in the crash of an army plane a half mile southwest of the Sioux City air base, the post public relations office announced.

Capt. Fred Shick, post public relations officer, said all 10 men were dead when he reached the plane, which he said was on a routine flight.

The crash occurred about 2:15 a. m. A guard was placed around the area immediately and no civilians were permitted near the craft.

Capt. Shick said the names and ranks of those killed in the crash would not be released until their next of kin had been notified.

Mother Searches In Vain For Boy Who Always Came Home

Boston, Nov. 30.—(P)—A silent, moved slowly, hugging the brick wall that led to the door of the Northern Mortuary, where the bodies of many of the 400-odd victims of Saturday's Coconut Grove night club fire lay unidentified.

Stunned by their own grief, those waiting scarcely turned when a little old lady wrapped in a shawl and kerchief shuffled toward the door. A police sergeant stepped forward to meet her.

"My Sammy," she faltered. "He didn't come home. He always comes home."

TINY MATCH BLAZE CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

One Thousand Night Club Merry-makers Trapped in Flaming Building; Scores Unidentified

200 ARE BADLY INJURED

Boston, Nov. 30.—(P)—State and county law-enforcement officers went into immediate action today to determine whether any law violation had contributed to the Saturday night fire that suddenly converted the Coconut Grove night club into a house of flaming death for 477 merry-makers.

Moving under instructions from Acting Public Safety Commissioner John F. Stokes, state Fire Marshal Stephen C. Garrity turned over to District Attorney William J. Foley of Suffolk county a preliminary report of the fire that flared from a match-flame lighted by a 16-year-old bus boy as he sought to replace a light bulb removed by a club patron.

Meanwhile, a hundred bodies still lay unclaimed and unclaimed in the city's morgues, posing a terrific problem of identification to officials who said that many had been burned almost past recognition.

In undertaking establishments throughout New England, preparations were underway for the hundreds of funerals that will carry the bodies of the victims to their graves.

Hospitals ministered to more than 170 other trampled and burned patrons—many of whom hovered close to death, in the wake of one of the worst holocausts in the nation's history.

The busboy whose match started the inferno was identified by Deputy Police Superintendent James R. Clafin as Stanley F. Tomaszewski.

The boy related, Clafin said, that he was trying to replace an electric light bulb which had been unscrewed by a prankster in the recently opened melody room of the club when the match flame brushed the flimsy paper and set off the devastating blaze.

The flames swept through the highly inflammable decorations as the orchestra leader raised his baton to signal for the national anthem as a prelude to the Saturday night floor show. Within seconds the crowded night club was a bedlam of screaming women and horror-stricken men dashed for exits, tumbling over each other on the jam-packed stairways.

District Fire Chief William J. Mahoney said that tangled and frightfully burned bodies were found four and five deep and that tables and chairs were scattered and tipped in a shambles among the dead.

As speedily as possible, physicians and specialists in the treatment of burns were called to the scene.

10,000 Nazis Slaughtered As Reds Crack New Defense Line

By the Associated Press
On the Soviet, Russia's great winter offensive engulfed another German stronghold on the Don as the Red armies, slaughtering 10,000 Nazi troops a day, advanced several miles and drove the invaders farther back toward the bayonets of the Stalingrad garrison.

Dispatches to Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, said 100,000 Germans had been killed and 66,000 captured in the flaming Stalingrad battle theatre in the 10 days period ended yesterday.

In addition, 14,800 Nazis were listed as killed on the central (Moscow) front, making a grand total of 180,000 knocked out of action in the Soviet offensive.

While clearing skies prevailed over the frozen Stalingrad steppe-lands, Russian troops on the Moscow front fought their way through a blizzard to cut three Nazi-controlled rail lines and isolated the communications hub at Velikiye Luki, only 90 miles from the Latvian frontier.

Soviet quarters said the twin Stalingrad—Moscow operations were the greatest undertaken by the Russian in 17 months of war. "The German army is facing the blackest moment since its invasion of Russia," these quarters said.

On the Stalingrad front, Soviet troops were credited with smashing new German lines on the east bank of the Don—the second break-through in this sector in two days—and 1,000 more Germans were reported killed in the action.

Inside long-besieged Stalingrad, the Russian said Nazi troops repeatedly and vainly attacked in an effort to regain positions in the bloody northside factory district, losing more than 750 dead as Soviet defenders held fast.

Minor Mishaps Damage Autos On Icy Roads

Over the weekend slippery roads contributed to a number of small auto accidents about the city, none of which resulted in injury to the occupants of the cars.

At Pennsylvania avenue and Eastmouth street, Virgil Palmer attempted a left hand turn when a car driven by Robert K. McMichael, 163 Euclid street, Erie, crashed into the rear of his car. The slippery road did not allow the Erie man to stop. The damage on both cars amounted to about $150, according to the police report.

Roger W. Johnson, 49 Hickory street, Jamestown, skidded while driving on Market street extension into the car of Edward Shafer, R. D. 3, Girard, Pa., damaging both cars. Johnson sustained a loss of $150 and Shafer $75, according to the police report.

Charles Sontag and Miles Kibby, both of Warren, got their cars into a tangle at Hickory street and Pennsylvania avenue, when it is alleged that Kibby failed to stop and drove through a red light.

Floyd V. Mack at 1:55 this morning drove into a parked car in front of the R. W. Norris shop and store. He was arrested by the police for reckless driving.

Visions of an air raid were given residents of Pennsylvania avenue in the vicinity of the Finley sporting goods store at 12:53 this morning.

A driver had imbibed too much hunting spirit and went to sleep in his car. His head dropped over onto the horn and it started blowing. Police investigated and moved the man's head, shutting off the noise. His cards and keys were taken from him until he sobered up.

Veron Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Swanson, North Irvine street, who is in the navy stationed at Boston, was in the vicinity of the club where the holocaust took place Saturday night. He telephoned his parents here last evening to allay any fears they may have had about his safety.

SCALES ARE INSTALLED

In addition to the crime detector, or service for the examination of prisoners at the police station has been made in the way of scales by which the weight and height of prisoners can be secured and recorded. The police already have a file of photographs and finger prints and the addition of weight and correct height will add to the records in the future.

WATCHMAN INJURED

Raphael Aurilio, 9 Carver street, was admitted to the Warren General hospital Sunday morning for injuries sustained when he was struck and knocked to the pavement by an Erie motorist. According to the State Motor Police Aurilio was flagging traffic for a freight train which was approaching when a car operated by Peter Heberlein, 1362 Grandview boulevard, Erie, went out of control on the snow-covered pavement. The driver is alleged to have passed a car in front of him and run down the watchman, before continuing on over the crossing just ahead of the train. Mr. Aurilio has injuries to the back and is not considered serious.

New Trail Added To Hiking Club Record

The Allegheny Hiking Club added another new trail to their record yesterday, on the sixth journey of this season, and the 94th in their continuing list of different hikes. Taking advantage of the last Sunday before gasoline rationing takes effect, the party of 13 hikers, including one newcomer, drove 16 miles out of town south on Route 62 to the beginning of the Alex McGee trail of the Allegheny National Forest. There they walked east and up to trail to the top of the hill on Route 337, through the snow-covered hemlocks, and because of the steady wet snowfall, retraced their steps to the starting point, covering a little more than four miles of exhilarating hiking. A few deer tracks were observed in the woods, but these were quickly covered by the falling snow. Yesterday's trip was attended by Martha Branch, Patsy Chester, Elmer Fredrickson, R. W. Mackay, George Monroe, Catherine Reed, Alberta Ristau, Janet Ross, Alden Rossman, Elvira Rydholm, John F. Weiler, Frank Willard and Mary Yarzabek.

Obituary

DR. BRUCE S. WRIGHT
Erie, Nov. 30.—Dr. Bruce S. Wright, pastor of the First Methodist church, died suddenly Saturday night at the home of his son, Robert B. Wright, in Silver Springs, Md., from a heart attack.

Mrs. Wright said that her husband was taken suddenly ill while preparing his sermon, which he was to deliver at the Foundry Methodist church in Washington on Sunday morning.

Dr. Wright and Mrs. Wright left Erie Saturday morning and had planned to stay over night at their son's home before proceeding to the nation's capital.

The pastor had suffered a heart attack several years ago. Dr. Wright was widely known among clergymen in the United States, and also as an author and has served as Methodist exchange minister to the British Isles.

After graduating from Allegheny College in Meadville in 1905, Dr. Wright accepted his first pastorate at the First Methodist church in Fredonia, N. Y. His next pastorate was the Simpson Methodist church in Erie.

He left Erie in 1915 to become pastor of the American church in Manila, Philippine Islands, where he remained until 1918, returning to the United States to become pastor at Trinity Methodist church in Albany, where he remained for two years. He left there in 1920 to take over the Asbury Methodist pastorate in Buffalo, where he remained for 13 years.

In 1934 he returned to the Erie vicinity to become pastor of the Old Stone Methodist church in Meadville, where he remained until October, then returned to Erie to take up his duties in Simpson Methodist church.

Dr. Wright remained at Simpson Methodist church until six years ago, when he took over the pastorate at the First Methodist church. He is survived by his wife and three children, Elizabeth Wright, Robert Bruce Wright, former student at Allegheny College, and Mrs. Howard Preston.

Several years ago Dr. Wright purchased one of the Keeler homes at Vetsmore, which he has used as a summer home. Because of this a strong personal friendship was developed between Dr. Wright and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keeler of this city. Others in this group were attracted by the splendid personality of Dr. Wright and he had a large circle of warm true friends.

SUGGESTIVE SIGN

In the window of the B&B Smoke Shop there is a fine display of Dalmatian pups. They are lively little fellows and attract no end of attention. In the rear of the window is a sign reading "Electrolux Cleaning Service." This has roused many a chuckle, as it goes without saying that "pups will be pups" and the cleaning service really might come in handy.

RESTAURANTS BUSY

Restaurants of the city enjoyed a brisk business resulting from the influx of deer hunters Sunday. Every one that was open was filled with red-coated men and the Texas Lunch had one of the busiest days in a long time. From early morning, when the first auto loads of men rolled into town, until late night the employees were busy and extra help had to be called in to assist.

FIGHTING FOR GAS

Firemen of North Warren who have secured a new truck and a building in which to keep it are without a supply of gas. One application they have made has been turned down. Inasmuch as the truck carries a big boosted tank there is danger that it might freeze if there is no gas allowed for heating purposes. Another application has been made. The fire house is the building formerly housing the Loper store and the truck has been given a cinder floor and one side of the building is used for a tool room and benches are also in place where the firemen may change clothes.

Test Blackout Is A Success Saturday Nite

Warren had in common with the whole state its first Saturday night blackout. It was a success in every way and the violations were very few and inconsequential. Allen Gibson, chairman of the county defense council states that from all parts of the county reports are pouring in to the effect that every town observed the blackout in a splendid manner. The air raid wardens, auxiliary police, control center, staff and others who respond to the calls for air raid tests were all out and in position in record-breaking time. When the siren sounded for the test lights went out in town in fine shape. Wardens on the run went into doorways and pulled the emergency blackout switches putting out electric signs and store lights. Downtown Warren was probably never as dark back in the old gas-light days as it was for the half hour of the blackout Saturday night.

One real incident was taken care of on the East Side when an air warden hurrying over the back pulling switches rounded a corner on the run and crashed into Harry Landis, of Carver street. Mr. Landis was knocked down and sustained contusions and bruises and had to be removed to his home and given medical attention.

The emergency truck from the Central Fire Station was called to the Wendelboe store to conduct an investigation into the smell of gas and its lights were turned out while the firemen worked. Trucks of the fire department under the rulings are exempt from turning out their lights in tests.

Traffic on the streets was promptly halted and all cars pulled to the curb. The only cars moving about the town were the emergency trucks which are allowed to move with special lighting equipment.

Commander Forrest Waite, of the Control Center, reports that his contingent of workers was prompt in responding to the call, and between the time the "yellow" was sounded and the sirens blew the alarm the stations were manned and the work was carried out without a hitch.

All in all the blackout was a success although it was a surprise in every sense of the word. The response shows the value of the training which the public has received.

CHARRED TIMBERS

Workmen engaged in making repairs to the Blue and White Restaurant, in tearing off the damaged ceiling have uncovered charred timbers that were left in place from a previous fire. The structure has been damaged several times by flames and the timbers, although charred, are in good condition. Constantine Spiridon stated this morning he expected to have the restaurant ready for opening December 15th, if possible.

Munksgard's oldest son, Tech, Sgt. Chester Munksgard, in the army for some months also in a motorized equipment maintenance corps, is believed somewhere in the Pacific area and another son, Jim, expects soon to join the armed forces.

LETTERS IN BLOSSOM

Gasoline rationing is having its effect in adding to the decorations on the windshield of automobiles. The letters designating what classification books are held by the car operator are included in the ration books and must be displayed on the windshield. Many have already affixed the letters on their cars and they are much in evidence. Tuesday every driver must have his letter on his car as rationing of gas goes into effect then. Coupled with inspection tags and Federal stamps the windshields are bearing quite a burden.

POST INSPECTION

The First Fighter Command of the U. S. Army is sending a group of officers here tomorrow for inspection of the various observation posts already operating in the county and to organize a post where there are none at present. Richard Hansen, sub-director for the county, has been asked by the Buffalo office of the Fighter Command, to arrange the following meetings with chief observers, alert officers and their workers: Sheffield, 8 p. m. Tuesday; Youngsville, 8 p. m. Wednesday; Lander, 8 p. m. Thursday and in Warren at the same hour on Friday.

Memorial Tribute To Miss Gerhart

Warren Borough teachers paid tribute to one of their number recently deceased in the following resolution prepared by Elizabeth Wickstrom, Christine Hurd, Alice Higgins and Kathryn Martin, and read in memory of Emma Gerhart at the November meeting of the instructors' organization:

Whereas, One who was admired and beloved by us all has gone from us, never to return; therefore be it

Resolved, That while we deeply deplore the death of our co-worker and friend, Miss Emma Gerhart, we rejoice that we have had the privilege of teaching with her and knowing her, who worked and lived so zestfully and gave so generously of her time and energy in the classroom, in her social life and in the community.

Resolved, That we express our pride in her achievement as a teacher, her progress as a scholar and her influence as a genial, wholesome, versatile personality.

Resolved, That as members of the Warren Borough Teachers' Association we transmit a copy of these resolutions to her family with the expression of our deepest and most sincere sympathy.

Club Checks Distributed To Savers

The three Warren banks are among more than 5,000 banks throughout the nation that will distribute their Christmas Club checks this week to those who have carried Christmas Savings Club accounts during the year. The Warren banks mailed their checks on Saturday in an aggregate amount of $132,000 which will undoubtedly be distributed in many useful ways during the coming weeks. The amount this year is larger than the preceding two years which totaled $119,000 in 1941 and $108,000 in 1940, but the number of Christmas Club accounts remains about the same, a total of approximately 3,000 persons.

The nation as a whole will receive some $410,000,000 among about 8,000,000 Christmas Club members and Pennsylvania has the second largest total of all the states, being exceeded only by New York. According to statistics published by a national agency, it is estimated that in previous years Christmas Club funds are distributed approximately 30% for Christmas purchases, 22% for permanent savings, 13% for taxes, 12% for War Bonds, 11% for insurance premiums and the other 12% for year end bills, education, charity, and unclassified expenditures. However, this year, according to many comments heard in Warren banks, a much larger percentage than usual will be invested in War Savings Bonds and undoubtedly many new Christmas Club accounts will be opened for the same purpose.

Much Buying Done Friday at Open House

Warren stores were open Friday evening until 9 o'clock, giving the shoppers of the vicinity their first peek of the Christmas offerings. Most of the stores were gaily decorated in Christmas trim and presented a beautiful appearance. There was a large crowd on the streets and all of the stores report an excellent night's business. Saturday, with the shoppers in a holiday frame of mind, the stores were well filled and shopping was brisk.

Merchants are urging that buying be done early for three reasons: First, so mailing can be done on dates set by the post office department; second, so that better choices can be secured, as replacements of stock are well nigh impossible, and third; that the clerks may give better service to the shoppers and aid them in making selections. No Christmas decorations and lights will be placed on the streets this year, due to a request from a governmental agency.

BUTTERFLY LORE

Observing how butterflies dash from one flower to another without settling down, early naturalists gave them the reputation of being frivolous and superficial.

Funeral services in memory of John Peter Carlson, 11 South Pine street, were held at two o'clock Friday afternoon at the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home. Rev. J. C. Wygant, pastor of First Evangelical church, conducted the service, during which Miss Charlotte Erickson and Mrs. Everett Borg sang two hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Softly and Tenderly". Interment was made in Oakland cemetery, with the following as bearers: A. E. Hultman, H. Bonstrom, H. C. Brunne, O. Adamson, Harry Hunzinger and Fred Retterer.

Those attending from away were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carlson, Georgetown, Pa.; Alfred Anderson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Doris Carlson, Endicott, N. Y.; Miss Geraldine Carlson, Buffalo, N. Y.; Miss Mildred Carlson, Pittsburgh.

FRANKLIN CURTIS CAMP

Cole Hill, Nov. 30—Funeral services in memory of Franklin Curtis Camp were held from his home here, with Rev. Dwight Jack, of the Garland Methodist church, giving the sermon and reading two hymns, "Abide With Me" and "No Night There". Interment was made in the Garland Methodist cemetery with the following as bearers: Ralph and Frank Burt, Charles Fye and Robert Covell, grandsons; Oren and Norton Eastman, nephews.

There were many beautiful flowers and the large attendance included the following: Bert Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Johnson, Pittsfield; Lulu Conklin, Jamestown; Mrs. Veva Seaton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burt and children, Margaret and Ralph, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burt and children, Harry and Julia Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fye and daughter, Sue, and Miss Mary Jane Rapp, Sharpsville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Janek, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farnham and daughter, Charmene, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Camp and daughters, Virginia Glavis, Nina and Judy Bell, Corry; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Mayville; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Camp and daughters, Hazel and Mabel, and Miss Josephine Koch, Sherman, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mead and son, Richard, Erie; Mrs. Lillian Simons and son, Eugene, North Warren; Mrs. Georgia Green, Miss Berdessa Green and George Siefert, Warren.

Mr. Camp was born near Laona, N. Y., March 6, 1857, son of Norton and Mercy Fuller Camp, and one of his earliest recollections was of riding the carriage in his father's sawmill at that place. In the winter of 1896 his father bought the old Perkins place on Ross Hill and came with his son, an ox team and a flock of sheep, taking several very cold days to make the trip. They left the oxen and sheep at the old Bonner farm while they went up Cole Hill afoot, stopping at the large rock half way up and mistaking it for a house. They spent the first night at the David Martin home and next morning went on to their farm. Soon they sent for Mrs. Camp and the other children. His

Now That We're Walking Again...

A few years ago we used to joke quite a lot about the "Horse and Buggy Days". Now, so far as automobiles are concerned, they are here again. With 3 gallons of gasoline per week we aren't going to do much driving.

We Americans are going to learn to walk again... but there is a limit to the time we can spend doing it. When it comes to paying bills you can do it without walking or driving. All you have to do is

HUNTERS AND PHONE CALLS

Game hunters in the field this season, anxious to tell the home folks of their exploits, can clog up toll telephone lines that already are humming with essential war calls.

This is the reminder of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania which asks that gunners curb the impulse to make casual telephone calls, particularly over long-distance lines.

The hunting season annually brings a large temporary population to areas which already are using available telephone facilities to the utmost. Additions to facilities are not possible because of the extreme scarcity of critical materials. It is necessary to provide the greatest possible essential service with existing facilities.

So, the hunter enjoying a few days of well-earned sport is asked not to telephone home, particularly on toll lines, unless he has a message that cannot wait.

MATTER OF OPINION

First, Mayor La Guardia of New York suggested saving coffee grounds and adding a little fresh to make a new brew. He was howled down by the multitudes, including his wife.

Then President Roosevelt who, his wife says, fancies himself as a coffee expert, suggested the same thing except that he would first dry out the old grounds before adding new.

Well, coffee is an as-you-like-it drink. If you like it diluted to half strength, wangle an invitation from the mayor or the President. If you want coffee able to stand on its own feet, take your cup a day at home and pretend that it's enough.

It's all a matter of taste.

WORK WEEKS

The average work week in American industry, much of which is devoted to the war, now is 43 hours. There is strong resistance to increasing this in many industries. Overtime pay penalties, which were installed to force short work weeks upon industry while we had millions of unemployed, are retained.

The average work week in Britain is 56 hours. Now that is something. But Germans have to work 60 hours a week, notwithstanding the slave labor they have imported from conquered nations. And the Russians, who really know what war is all about, are working 66 hours a week.

What are we going to do about it?

SUGGESTION

An Ohioan read an editorial which mentioned the wonders the nucleus of 275 ordnance corps officers have accomplished. He sat him down and made a suggestion which, with hearty approval, is passed on to Washington. Said he:

"If 275 officers in one branch can do this great job—if Washington was undermanned instead of overmanned, maybe the war would get over quicker."

The war and rationing restrictions apparently failed to cause much of a reduction in the size of the army of redcaps who invaded the section over the weekend to be in the woods on the opening day of the deer season. To the average observer, it appeared, there were just as many cars filled with hunters driving through town the past few days as there have been in any seasons in the past.

That Saturday night blackout test seems to have been the most successful of any yet staged in this community. In spite of the fact that there were still many shoppers on the streets traffic was halted in a surprisingly short time.

The large number of admirers and friends of Dr. Bruce S. Wright, of Meadville, will regret to learn of his sudden passing Saturday night. An outstanding orator with a charming personality Dr. Wright was well and favorably known to many in this community.

The sympathy of all is extended the family of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hansen, Beech street, bereaved by the loss of their young son, Russell, as a result of an unfortunate accident in the home Friday evening.

Lot of Warren folks who have been hoarding gasoline the past few days should read up on the law regulating the storage of inflammable materials.

Five weeks until New Year's Eve.

Russian Scrap Drive

County To Participate In Pearl Harbor Day Campaign

December 7th—Pearl Harbor Day—is fast approaching.

How can Pennsylvanians celebrate that day of yellow infamy? Governor Arthur H. James gives the answer in a proclamation designating that date as a gigantic one-day salvage day throughout the state, with a goal of fifty thousand tons of scrap from every city, town, village, farm and factory. He reminded citizens of Pennsylvania that their state was close to the nation's top in its record to date on scrap collection, and urged them not to fall down in this latest effort.

Wylie S. Corbett, chairman of the Warren County Salvage Committee, this morning announced that Warren county would participate in the Pearl Harbor Day scrap drive to the fullest extent. He echoed Governor James' appeal for a gigantic effort, and set 250 tons as Warren county's quota for the drive. Mr. Corbett, like Governor James, called attention to the fact that Warren county stood second in the entire state in per capita collection of scrap and that the Victory Salvage Penant would soon be flying from the court house tower. "We must maintain the high standard we have set to date," said Mr. Corbett, "and it will take the combined effort of every Warren countian to put it across."

All scrap collected in this drive will be donated, and every dollar realized from its sale will be turned over to the Red Cross. The borough scrap depot at the foot of Market street will be open and individuals may bring their scrap direct to it. Farmers are asked to collect their material and place it near the highway for state trucks to bring in.

Mr. Corbett urged clergymen of all denominations to publicize the drive to their congregations. He asked superintendents and principals of all county and city schools to initiate a scrap round-up among their students. He requested the support of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and placed particular emphasis on the part that oil leasemen and refiners can play in this campaign, as well as factories and stores.

The drive, Mr. Corbett said, should begin immediately and culminate on December 7th rather than begin on that date. It is hoped that by sundown of Pearl Harbor Day the County Salvage Committee will be able to announce that the goal of 250 tons has been more than reached. Any person desiring information on any detail of the campaign is invited to call the Defense Office, phone 3048.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Gradually the capital is assembling a number of little clues that may build up into a picture of how the United Nations intend to establish real freedom in those parts of the world which have suffered despotism and slavery.

The story starts with the signing of the Atlantic Charter and a little later, the signing of the joint statement of aims by leaders of the United Nations. It continues down through speeches and statements by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull. It takes in Wendell Willkie's speech after his globe-girdling flight and the President's comments on Willkie's speech.

THE latest clue, and perhaps the most definite to date, was the President's speech on the seventh anniversary of the Philippine Commonwealth. The Atlantic Charter spoke of "respect for the rights of all people to choose their forms of government." The matter rested there for some time—until Willkie returned with word that the Far East, particularly China, was bewildered as to Anglo-American war aims. Many Orientalists, Willkie said, have read the Atlantic Charter. "Rightly or wrongly," he continued, "they ask: What about a Pacific charter? What about a world charter?"

The President answered that one by stating that "the Atlantic Charter applies to all humanity," and was so called simply because it was signed at sea in the Atlantic.

Still unanswered, however, was the question which Willkie reported was causing the most uneasiness in China: "What about India?" The Chinese, he said, were particularly alarmed not at the British attitude, but at the fact that the U.S. failed to step in and mediate the Indian dispute.

Now comes Mr. Roosevelt's Philippine speech. It gives a strong suggestion of the way his thinking is running.

"I like to think," the President said, "that the history of the Philippine Islands in the last 44 years provides in a very real sense a pattern for the future of small nations and peoples of the world. It is a pattern of what men of good will look forward to in the future."

Who would Mr. Roosevelt include among his "men of good will?" Winston Churchill certainly. And here is what may be the tip-off on how men of good will plan to restore real popular rule to conquered Germany and her satellites, and perhaps how they plan to handle India and other colonial areas.

"But we must remember," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "that such a pattern is based on two important factors: one through the dissemination of education, the second is that there must be a period of training and ultimate independence of sovereignty, through practice of more and more self government."

Russia Needs Help Behind Lines As Well As In Front

"Why," asked a Warren citizen this morning, "does Russia need help from America now that her armies are pressing forward? Why are we asked to subscribe $8,000,000 in this country, and $4,000 in Warren county, between November 30 and the end of this week, December 5?"

The answer was made very emphatically by George Wholeben, chairman of the Warren County Russian War Relief Committee. "Though Russian armies are now apparently on the way to a big victory, that offensive would not have been possible without American aid in the form of tanks, planes, and all sorts of material. Russia needs just as much help behind the lines as in front of them—help for the hundreds of thousands of wounded soldiers who lie in makeshift hospitals with insufficient medical care, insufficient medicine, insufficient surgical tools, insufficient warmth. It is for this help that Russian War Relief is appealing, and Russia would still need this help even if her advance columns were within twenty miles of the Wilhelmstrasse."

Last details on plans for the drive were completed over a busy weekend, and the county-wide effort got off to an encouraging start in its opening hours this morning with several large donations from individuals. Four thousand spokesmen—for Russia went out Saturday in the form of letters to representative citizens of the Borough and the county. These letters set forth in brief form the goal of the campaign, the reasons for it, and the uses to which the money would be put. It asked individuals to be as generous as possible in making donations. "Remember what the Russians are doing for us—and let your conscience guide your pen when you write a check." Any citizen who fails to receive their letters through accident are asked to call the Russian War Relief Committee at the Warren Bank and Trust Co., so that the omission may be speedily supplied.

Here's how the money may be sent in: 1. It may be enclosed in the envelope accompanying the letter and reach the committee postage-free. 2. It may be mailed with the coupon appearing each day in the Times-Mirror. 3. It may be left at a Russian Relief Booth in the central part of town. 4. It may be left at one of the Russian Relief Depositories at various points throughout the county.

One booth is already functioning at the Metzger-Wright Co. with Russian costumes, objects d'art, and music, making a colorful reminder. Another is planned at a second location. The county depositories are as follows:

Warren: The Warren National Bank, First National Bank, Warren Bank and Trust Co.

Sugar Grove: Sugar Grove Savings Bank.

Youngsville: Youngsville National Bank.

Sheffield: The Sheffield National Bank.

Tidioute: Tidioute State Bank.

North Warren: The Saden store.

Lottville: Earl Wilson Store.

Chancellors Valley: Peterson and Engstrom Store.

Pittsfield: Mark Boardman Store.

Russell: Van Orsdale and Wiltie store.

Akeley: Brown Red and White store.

Starbuck: Milspaw's store.

Garland: Johnson Bros. store.

Corydon: Pascarella store.

Saybrook: C. A. Carlson store.

Industries are asked to donate generously to Russia Relief, especially those who are doing a record business in making material for the war effort; as well as employees of those industries, whose earnings are at the peak of many years.

Individual donations are deductible for income tax purposes. Corporate donations, for those firms in the higher excess profits tax brackets, mean the actual donation of only a part of the amount subscribed since the rest of it would be paid as a tax in any event.

It is hoped that the goal of $4,000 will be well in sight by the middle of the week.

Details Compiled Of Farmers Scrap Harvest

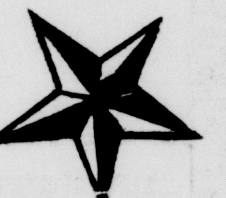

Wylie S. Corbett, chairman of the Warren County Salvage Committee, has asked the Times-Mirror to announce that all details connected with the Farmers Scrap Harvest from September 15th to 25th have now been completed. All scrap has been sold and checks in payment have been sent to the various Granges in the county. He stated that members of the Granges should now contact their Grange Masters and receive the amounts due them.

Mr. Corbett, in making this announcement, paid high tribute to the excellent work done voluntarily by Leon Laskaris who acted as auditor for the drive and spent many hours accounting for the material and money received.

Nimrods Get Plenty For Small Hunting License Fee

With the deer hunting season opening today and thousands of hunters in the woods it is interesting to note the report made by the Game Commission, secretary of the State Game Commission. The biennial ended in many and was marked by numerous outstanding events all of which contributed to the long range planning for game conservation which began many years ago.

The land program for game refuges passed the 700,000 acre mark at the end of the biennial. This began to accumulate 22 years ago when the purchase program was started. During the last two years over 47 counties have been bought in 47 counties of the State. Contracts for the purchase of an addition 37,000 acres were in effect at the close of the period.

State game lands comprise 174 blocks located in 61 of the counties of the State. They not only provide fish and game but also as a continuous source of products. Even though only a few priced cutover lands have been purchased nearly $40,000 was realized from the sale of timber and wood during the biennial.

The low average price of $3.60 per acre is evidence that the Commission is not profligate in its land buying.

Over $64,000 was paid to the county Treasurers and for schools and roads in lieu of taxes at the rate of one per cent for county purposes and two cents per acre for road and school purposes. Over $137,000 was received from federal funds for the Wildlife Conservation fund and the purchase of land in the past three years and represents 44,400 acres.

After six years of the farm-game program planned to develop a better understanding between farmers and sportsmen and to improve farm game hunting in the more intensively cultivated and thickly populated counties of the State has proved beyond doubt that the objectives are being attained to an encouraging extent. At the close of the 1930-1940 decade there were 83 projects comprising 135,000 acres where as at the end of the present biennial there were 76 projects comprising over 148,000 acres.

It is interesting to note that during the 1940 season an estimated army of 43,376 hunters took 84,110 pieces of game off the project areas an estimated 45,062 hunters took 85,433 pieces of game in 1941. During the biennial 41,714 pieces of game were stocked on the projects of the Commission. The Commission also paid cooperative farmers and their families between $2500 and $2000 each year for the hatching and raising of ringnecks.

The game propagation areas were increased by 20 projects totaling over 1900 acres bringing the total of these projects where game may live and breed unmolested and under natural conditions to 95 comprising over 28,000 acres at the end of the biennial.

The special wild life refuge program which is comparable in operation to the farm-game refuge program except that it is sponsored by sportsmen's organizations was increased tremendously over the previous biennial. Both sportsmen and landowners approved the setup and as a result of their point efforts 114 projects containing 41,000 acres were in operation at the close of the period. This was a gain of 79 projects comprising over 22,000 acres over the previous two year period. During the biennial 54 new

Dizziest Football Season In Years Is Coming To A Close

By Austin Bealmer

New York, Nov. 30.—(P)—The dizziest football season of them all, complicated by the uncertainties of war, had all but run its course today, leaving coaches, players and fans convinced that the definition of armed conflict by a fellow named Sherman was a masterpiece of understatement.

Although there still are a few fids and ends to be picked up somewhere, the remainder of the season saw the campaign against the what amounted to a fish Saturday and unload what surprises it had left on an unsuspecting public.

Holy Cross, a 4 to 1 underdog, crushed Boston College's previous unbeaten Eagles, 55-12. Navy nined a 14-0 defeat on an army team that was favored at 3 to 1 and Georgia, humbled by Auburn, a week before, bounced back to win Georgia Tech's spotless record, 34-0.

All told, the day's activities added to the lineup of conference champions until now it looks like this:

Western—Ohio State
Ivy League—Pennsylvania
Southeastern—Georgia

Covering The Sports Front!

BY "BOB" JOHNSON

For the fan who likes the phrase "Now I've heard everything," we have you Boston College, the team that de-emphasized in one day faster than P-T before game time, you could have sent him to any sports center in the country and have it covered quicker than he could help pull out the cabbage.

Now the boys at the helm are willing to let any man, woman or child try his hand at picking games, and better luck than they experienced wouldn't be hard to match.

When they scattered over the hundred Saturday, Holy Cross made one of the battered eleven which some of the better teams have had for a breather, and rather than listen to it the fans folded on them and turned the dials in other and more interesting directions, and then they rip up the gridiron, smothering the best team in the nation.

But from far off we hear a cry of some jubilant writer who screams called that game, and as the wires sing in hopes of finding the ap we'll just forget odds and all to do with it and try finding a buck.

Let's take another turn at it and talk about bucks, and when we say bucks we mean those terrific Bucks from down Ohio way. Always it's a feeling of partiality toward them, we can take the dough nine times out of ten with those boys in their backing.

Some of those plays that Paul Brown put through for touchdowns today have more behind them than any of us will ever see. For instance, when he yanks the quarterback after an injury (saving the game on penalty), then sticks him in when the ball is on the 18-yard line and the next play is touchdown stuff, it looks kind of funny.

Regardless of the circumstances, about the best team in the country Ohio State, and that bars any of them except the special mention department, where Auburn and Holy Cross reign supreme. And let us forget, if and when there is a college football season next year the jockeys will have all but two of their starting team back. This includes Sarringhouse and Fekete, two of the best running backs in the country.

Well, the nimrods asked for snow and they have snow. Now if our season agitators come up with the alibi, we'll know what to say. On all outlooks in the country, it certainly has the earmarks of an all first day, though, and the kill should be quite heavy. Reports of a best quality say that the wily horned one is plentiful in most parts and with the expected turnout of hunters should keep them running all day, so as you are reading this we hope one of your family can supply plenty. Note to Willy Rice: Hope we can give you another steak this year, because the apples we handed you the other night weren't so hot.

Deer Hunters Invade County Seeking Kill

Here come the rednecks! This cry could well have been uttered over the weekend as hundreds of hunters passed through Warren on their way to the big woods to hunt deer. Cars were burdened with men in red and on the tops, running boards and fenders there was a heterogeneous collection of mattresses, coats, boxes, etc. Many trailers were to be seen and some parties rode in trucks that had been outfitted with bunks, stoves, etc., ready for camping.

Not in years has there been such an outpouring of hunters and those who had predicted that due to the war the numbers would be smaller than in previous years certainly missed their guess. If one-half of the hunters get a deer, the kill will be a large one.

Most of the camps in the county were occupied before nightfall and still the parade of cars rolled onward. Kinzua exhausted its rooming places early in the afternoon and almost every farm house along Kinzua creek had its quota of hunters. Sheriff had a large number of hunters at the hotels and rooming houses and along Tionesta creek other scores secured lodging.

Hayes Englert, district game protector, predicts the kill will be a large one but that the greater part of the hunters will leave the woods sooner than usual. This will be due to the fact that they will have to return to their defense jobs and can spend only a limited time in the woods.

Warren county can offer the hunters perhaps the finest deer herd of the past decade. The animals seemingly are plentiful and of a good size. The kill of antlers deer a few years ago so desimated the herd that on the count back they grew to be finer animals than ever in the woods a few years ago when food was scarce and the animals were small.

The snow that fell over the week-end will aid in the hunting as it in the woodlands the snow did not melt as much as it did on the highways and in the towns. The fall will help in tracking and also in sighting the animals.

Reports of the kill are being eagerly awaited and county hunters are invited to make The Times-Mirror the receiving end of a telephone call telling of their good fortune afield.

Warnings have been issued by the State Game Commission to the hunters in an effort to keep down accidents and while there will probably be some fatal accidents it is fervently hoped that the number will be less than in other years.

ing 4571 acres and 6 new auxiliary refuges comprising 937 acres were added. Five Primary Refuges were reduced in size and 11 other Primary and Auxiliary refuges were abandoned.

Hunters in this state who pay a small fee annually for the right to enjoy their favorite sport are certainly being well taken care of by the Game Commission and are sure of getting their money's worth.

Tanners To Process Deer Pelts for Army

Hunters are reminded to save their deer hides as the government is anxious to secure them for the manufacture of vests for men in the armed services. By skinning the deer properly removing the head, feet and all flesh a fine hide is left. Men working in the tanneries at St. Marys, Mt. Jewett, Ridgway and Wilcox have all agreed to do the work of tanning without cost so that the soldiers and sailors may have the vests, mauls and gloves for which deer skin is the very best of material.

Annually thousands of hides were thrown away and in this county hundreds were thrown in the garbage cans and destroyed at the garbage incinerators. This year however it is anticipated that the hides will be saved by the hunters. As yet no place has been designated where the hides may be left for transfer to the tanneries to be processed.

First Victim Of Deer Season Is A Hunter From Templeton

Harrisburg, Nov. 30.—(P)—Pennsylvania's 12-day deer hunting season opened today with at least one accidental death already chalked up.

The victim was Wirt R. Shilling, 44, of Templeton, an Armstrong county constable, shot through the heart by a bullet from his own pistol in a hunting camp tragedy near Snow Shoe in Centre county.

Coroner Charles Sheekler said Shilling was killed almost instantly when a .38 calibre pistol dropped to the floor from his holster and exploded while Shilling was bending over a fire. He was accompanied by his 17-year-old son and a nephew, Clair Shilling, 24.

Defense workers made up a big part of the thousands of hunters who took to the field over the state in search of legal bucks.

The game commission said many war workers had reserved some or all of their vacations for the deer season, ending Dec. 12, although unsuitable weather conditions might limit their numbers. Other years have seen from 250,000 to 300,000 hunters out.

Shelves Clean Bears Lauded Of Whiskey for Ram Chief

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Chicago, Nov. 30.—(P)—After watching his Cleveland Rams battered 47 to 0, Dutch Clark applauded the Chicago Bears' line with a few words of praise—which was only natural for his team had a minus 12 yards trying to break through it.

"That line is a marvel," he shuddered. "Washington's first line is tough, but I'd rate the Bears superior from end to end—and they've also got better reserves. The proof? Dec. 13 may be decided by the men up front rather than those behind."

Washington completed its best season in 11 years yesterday by pounding the Detroit Lions 15 to 3. The losers established a record by not getting a victory all fall. Sammy Baugh passed 11 yards to Andy Farkas and 13 to Ed Cifers for touchdowns to raise his ante to 16 scoring throws for the season.

Rookies Andy Tomasic and Joe Gonda ripped 47 and 68 yards to touchdowns while flash Bill Dudley was picking up only 33

ALCOHOL STARTED FIRE

The emergency truck from the Central Fire Station was called to Prospect street, near Madison avenue, at 2:45 Sunday afternoon, an automobile driven by Roland Nordine, 17 Church street, North Warren and one driven by Jack Flemington collided and the alcohol in the Nordine car caught ablaze. SCRAP DRIVE BLAMED

Because the snow shovel was given in the scrap drive must have been the reason that so many sidewalks about town yesterday were not cleaned. However, that will not be a valid excuse if the borough employs clean the walks of the shoeless fellows on the next fall of snow. The warm air that blew into town last evening gave the snow on the walks the consistency of mush and made walking treachment of burns, mustered by the Boston committee on public safety, were mercifully ministering to the injured, using blood plasma rushed from the Red Cross in Washington and pain and poison-alleviating sulfa drugs.

Meanwhile, long lines of relatives and friends stood two abreast outside the city's morgues throughout the cold night waiting for a chance to identify bodies, many of them charred beyond recognition.

A board of inquiry, including fire officials, U. S. navy representatives—there were servicemen among the dead—and two representatives of the federal bureau of investigation, which began its probe yesterday, reconvened today.

The death toll ranked only behind the Steamship General Slocum fire of 1904 in New York's east river in which 1,021 died. Chicago's theatre fire of 1903, which claimed 602 lives, and the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906 in which 500 died.

Deputy Fire Chief John F. McDonough told investigating officials that he found a number of bodies, some within ten feet of a damaged wall, and some lying designed to open under pressure, but it was out of order and had been secured by another lock.

The death of many of the victims was ascribed by Medical Examiner Timothy Leary to monoxide poisoning and smoke inhalation. He said that a number were "terribly burned" after death.

The stamper for the exits began, fire officials said, when a girl, detecting a thin whisp of smoke curling along the walls, shouted "fire" and within seconds the crowd fled for the doorways.

The wrecked stucco building resembled a huge brick oven after the flames had been extinguished, with hardly a scorched spot on the outside walls and roof, but with the interior a mass of debris.

Police Commissioner Joseph P. Timilty indicated, in an interview, that the youth who innocently started the fire should have been barred by law from working in the club.

"Isn't it against the law for a boy that age to work in a place where liquor is sold?" newsmen asked the commissioner.

"Well," he said, "you know the rules. He isn't supposed to."

"There is no doubt that the boy started the fire," Timilty added, "and there is no doubt that it was accidental."

A revolving door trapped a number of persons when it became jammed by a pileup of bodies, and one body was even found in a telephone booth.

Harry Glasheen, an Associated Press reporter, assisted women in pulling more than 20 persons from the building. He said he saw signs of life in only two—one a man and the other a woman.

Simultaneously with the Allied assault on the hastily contrived Axis defenses in Tunisia, German and Italian communiques reported that the 8th Army's tanks struck the first blow at Marshal Rommel's El Aghaila line in Libya. The Axis claimed these attacks repulsed; the British kept silent.

NEW APPEAL ISSUED TO STATE TRUCKERS

Silver Creek, N. Y., Nov. 30. (AP)—New York's Central Railroad officials blame the apparent mishandling of a switch for a railroad accident which injured more than 20 persons, four seriously.

James J. Frawley of Erie, Pa., superintendent of the road's Erie division, said a hearing would be held this week to determine if any negligence were involved in the crash yesterday of the westbound Commodore Vanderbilt, fast passenger train, with a freight engine.

ister on time for "A" books and thousands of applications for additional gasoline improperly filled out caused the bottleneck, they said.

An Office of Price Administration spokesman here also blamed motorists for the last-minute jam.

"The public has had sufficient warning to file applications early and to make them out clearly and correctly," he asserted.

Gasoline dealers reported filling thousands of cans for motorists hoping to procure a supply sufficient "to tide them over."

However, Pittsburgh's Public Safety Director George E. A. Fairley warned that storing of gasoline for the forbidden and declared violators caught would be prosecuted.

The Allegheny county war transportation committee said a survey indicated street cars and buses, now carrying almost capacity loads, will be overloaded by 10 to 15 per cent as a result of rationing. The committee will meet tomorrow with officials of street car, bus and railroad companies to discuss staggering of hours, especially for non-essential workers, as one means of solving the anticipated problems.

Virtually all motorists clung to the hope that the area would be taken out of District 1, where the weekly ration is three gallons. OPA officials in Washington promised to rule today on an appeal from a western Pennsylvania committee that the area be placed in District 2 where four gallons a week would be permitted.

She stood confused. "I have no body else. What will I do?" Then she shuffled away.

A man stepped forward and offered her a seat in his automobile.

And there she sat as the gray afternoon dimmed to twilight and darkness fell. The silent line moved on, and on.

At last, the little old lady slipped out of the car, and shuffled away from the faint radiance of the dimmed out street light—and on into the shadows to the west end flat to which Sammy had not returned.

IN THE WAR BOND WAY

TWO WAYS YOUR DOLLAR CAN FIGHT

Put some of your dollars into War Bonds. You can be sure they'll get into the battle without delay. Put some of your dollars into a bank account. The money you deposit fights too. We put it to work for victory.

Remember that these are the two best ways in which your dollars will take their part in fighting this war, and every dollar that is not absolutely needed for the necessities of life should enlist in the dollar army. Uncle Sam is going to need many more dollars as well as many more men.
